News around The Highlands

Board Meeting News

Since there was no board meeting this month, the Board would like to extend a Happy Holidays wish to all!

Other news

At the present time, we have three homeowners cleaning up the damage of failed hot water heaters. Make sure a leak has a way to drain directly to the ground or outside, not through your home first. You may want to call a plumber out to check this out, especially if your water heater is older than 10 years. It's much cheaper than paying for water damage to your home.

Related to this, if you think you might have a rodent issue, call an exterminator. If you put out rat poison, they often work by dehydrating the rats who then become desperate for water. Most water pipes here are PEX, plastic. The rats will eat through that and many homeowner's insurance will not cover that as it is an act of nature.

I will be taking down autumn decorations in the clubhouse and putting up Christmas.

If you would like to help, let me know.

Contact Helen Bressler at 541-679-5691 or 714-394-9579. Thanks!

Both new and old homeowners have been missing the events that the social committee used to put on. When I first arrived at the Highlands, I volunteered to be head of the social committee. I did it for 3 or 4 years with the help of committee members who were also new and old to the group. It is a great way to get to know the community. I would be willing to help anyone interested in joining/leading the social committee. Or even for a one-time event. Just let me know at the above contacts.

A college class was told they had to write a short story in as few words as possible. The instructions were: The short story had to contain the following three things:

- (1) Religion
- (2) Sexuality
- (3) Mystery

Below is the only A+ short story in the entire class.

"Good God, I'm pregnant; I wonder who did it."

PARTING SHOTS

Inflation is getting out of hand, but that's just my five cents.

HOW DID the tractor salesman find out his wife left him? He came home from work and found a John Deere letter.

A MAN CALLS his wife and says, "Don't worry, I'm fine, but as I was driving to lunch, a bird hit my windshield."

"Oh no! How much damage did it do?"

"Not much, but I got a ticket."

"How on earth did you get a ticket?"

"Well, I managed to reach the bird through the window and throw it behind me, but it hit the windshield of a highway patrol car. The officer gave me a ticket."

"For damaging his windshield?"

"No, for flipping him the bird!"

I WENT to visit a psychic. When I knocked on her door, she yelled, "Who is it?" So I left.

WHY DID the chicken cross the road? To get away from all these jokes you tell about him.

DURING A BLIZZARD, all the local highway signs were covered with snow. The following spring, the state decided to raise all the signs 12 inches at a cost of $6 million.

"That's an outrageous price!" a local farmer exclaimed. "I guess we're lucky the state handled it and not the federal government."

"Why's that?" another farmer asked.

"Knowing them, they'd decide to raise all the highways."

AN OLD IRISHMAN was coming home late one night from the pub. As he passed the graveyard, he thought of all his friends there, and then spotted a stone by the road.

"The poor man," he thought, "buried out here by the highway. And he lived to the ripe old age of 145. Here's to you, Miles from Dublin."

"I GOTTA STOP saying, 'How stupid can you be?' I'm beginning to feel like people are taking it as a challenge." - Kevin Hart

"I don't get it. I've asked the two simple questions all business leaders ask, adopted the four key habits of highly successful entrepreneurs, and religiously followed the three secret rules billionaires don't want you to know. And I'm still middle management!"

"I can never remember: Does the phone go on the left or the right?"

"I think I've figured out how to catch the laser beam."
